

Listening Section

Read this passage for questions 1-5.

Directions: Read this dialogue to the students twice. Then give them time to answer the questions.

Hi, Mary. What are you doing? You look busy.

Hi, Sarah. I am busy. I am filling out this application for a summer internship.

Really? What is the internship about?

The bank is offering a summer internship to high school graduates who want to learn about finance. I think it is a really good opportunity to find out if this is a subject I am interested in. The program is 6 weeks long, and at the end, the bank takes all the interns out to celebrate.

What are the requirements, Mary? Do you think I could get an internship too?

It can't hurt to try, Sarah. It would be great if we did it together. You need to write a short essay, saying why you are interested in the program. Then you need to ask one of your teachers to write you a letter of recommendation. Your parents also have to approve.

Thanks, Mary! I am going to ask my parents right now. Do you have an extra copy of the application?

Listening Section

Read these sentences for questions 6-11.

Directions: In this section students will listen to a part of a dialogue and then choose the best response. Read each numbered dialogue twice, and then give the students time to respond before continuing.

Number 6:

Hi Mary! I was going to do my homework but I can't find my book.
Have you seen it?

Number 7:

Ok, I must have left it at home. I'll go find it now. By the way, what are you doing tonight?

Number 8:

Have you seen the new movie at the cinema? I think it won two awards. Would you like to go see it tonight?

Number 9:

That sounds like a good idea. I will be home when you call.

Number 10:

Ok. By the way, if I can't find my book can I borrow yours?

Number 11:

That's great. I will talk to you later.
